Funder policies (1)

Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO)

NWO is of the opinion that research results obtained using public funds must be made freely available as much as possible. This applies to both scientific publications and research data. In this way valuable knowledge can be used by researchers, companies and public institutions. NWO therefore encourages Open Access publication and is developing policy for Open Access research data.

By BENEDIKT CAREY
Published: November 2, 2011
A well-known psychologist in the Netherlands whose work has been published widely in professional journals falsified data and made up entire experiments, an investigating committee has found. Experts say the case exposes deep flaws in the way science is done in a field, psychology, that has only recently earned a fragile respectability.

Public sector can combat fraud with data sharing
Outsourcing is not the only thing to blame for procurement fraud, says Graham Kemp, and the public sector needs to view data less as a security risk but knowledge to be shared.

What is DANS?

- Institute of KNAW & NWO, since 2005
- Mission:

  promote and provide permanent access to digital research information (started with digital archives in the humanities and social sciences)
Main activities and services

- encourage self-archive and reuse of data with Electronic Archiving SYstem EASY → www.easy.dans.knaw.nl
- provide access to datasets, e-publications and research information → www.narcis.nl
- data projects with research communities and partner organisations → www.dans.knaw.nl/en/content/projects
- advice, training and support, e.g. Data Seal of Approval → www.datasealofapproval.org
- R&D into archiving of and access to digital information
Motto

Open if possible, restricted if necessary!
NWO and DANS want to ensure that new research data are archived in a sustainable manner and made available for further research. After having been granted the subsidy, researchers are obliged to enter into a data contract with DANS. The data contract is intended to guarantee accessibility to the data as well as their digital sustainability for additional scientific research.
Data Management Plans

1. Preparation of the data collection project
2. Implementation of the data collection project
3. Archiving data and making data available
